

Psalm 8

To the chief musician, on the instrument of Gath, a psalm of David

1. Yah - weh our Lord, how ex - cel - lent in all the earth your name!
3. When I look up in - to your heav'ns which your own fing - ers made,
5. For you a lit - tle lo - wer than the an - gels have made him.
7. in - deed, all sheep and o - xen and the wild beasts of the field,

Your glo - ry and your ma - jes - ty you've set a - bove the heav'ns.
un - to the moon and to the stars which were or - dained by you,
With glo - ry and with dig - ni - ty you have ~ crowned his head.
8. the birds that in the hea - vens are, the fish with - in the sea,

2. From babes' and nur - sing in - fants' mouths you have es - tab - lished strength,
4. "O what is mor - tal man," I say, "that you re - mem - ber him?"
6. You gave to him do - min - ion o'er the works which your hands made.
and e - very - thing that pas - ses through the path - ways of the seas.

be - cause of all your foes, to still th'a - ven - ger and the foe.
What is the son of man that you should deign to vis - it him?"
You have sub - jec - ted e - very - thing to be be - neath his feet.
9. Yah - weh our Lord, how ex - cel - lent in all the earth your name!
