

Psalm 21

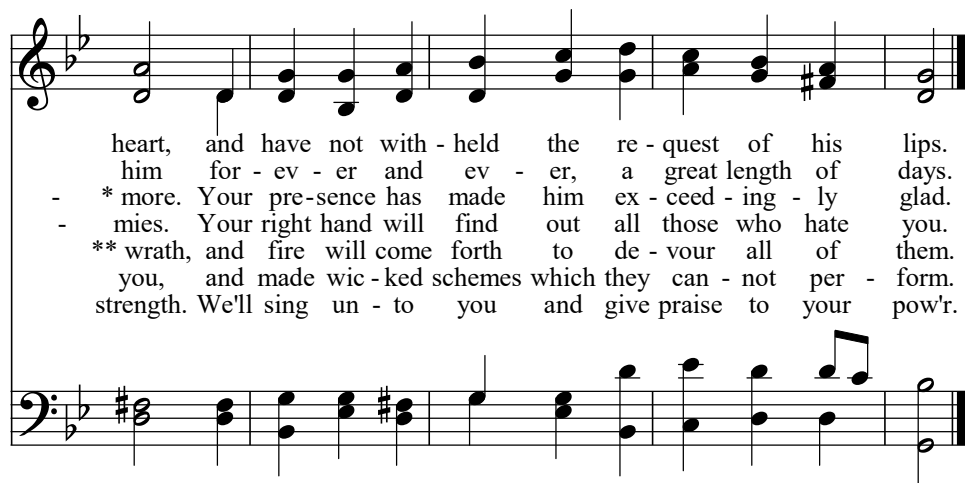

To the chief musician, a psalm of David

1.O Yah-weh, the king will re-joice in your strength, and in your sal-
3.For you have re-ceived him with bles-sings of good. A crown of pure
* 5.His glo-ry is great through sal-va-tion from you. Both ho-nor and 7.To Yah-weh the king has com-mit-ted his trust. Through love from the  9.When you have ap-peared in the time of your pow'r, you will like a 10.Their de-scend-ants you will de-stroy from the earth, their seed from a-12.So you will make them turn their backs be-fore you, when you have made

- va-tion he'll great-ly ex-ult. 2.You have giv-en him the de-sire of his gold you have set on his head. 4.He asked of you life, and you gave it to
* ma-jes-ty you have be-stowed, 6.be-cause you have made him most blest ev-er-Most High he will not be moved. 8.For your hand will find out all your en-e- fi-er-y o-ven make them. Then Yah-weh will swal-low them up in his
- mong all the sons ~ of man, 11.be-cause they in-ten-ded e-vil a-against read-y your ar-rows towards them. 13.O Yah-weh, be raised up on high in your heart, and have not with-held the re-quest of his lips.

him for-ev-er and ev-er, a great length of days.
- * more. Your pre-sence has made him ex-ceed-ing-ly glad.
- mies. Your right hand will find out all those who hate you.
 wrath, and fire will come forth to de-vour all of them.
you, and made wic-ked schemes which they can-not per-form.
strength. We'll sing un-to you and give praise to your pow'r.