

Psalm 35:16-28

A Psalm of David

16.They mocked at feasts. They gnashed their teeth. 17.O LORD, how long will you con - sid - er?
19.Those who are wrong - ful - ly my foes. do not let them re - joice a - gainst me.
22.LORD, you have seen what they have done. Do not be si - lent an - y long - er.
25.Let them not say with - in their hearts, "A - ha, just so have we de - sired it."
27.Let them re - joice and shout for joy who to my right - eous cause show fa - vor.

From their de - struc - tions res - cue me, my dar - ling from the strength of li - ons.
Those who de - spise me with - out cause, let them not look a - skance up - on me.
O LORD, do not be far from me! 23.Be - stir your - self! A - wake to judge me!
O do not let them say of me, "This one we have de - voured and swal - lowed."
O let them say con - tin - ual - ly, "The LORD be mag - ni - fied at all times, 18.I'll bring thanks - giv - ing un - to you in the as - sem - bled con - gre - ga - tion.

20.They speak no peace. They plot de - ceit a - gainst the qui - et in the na - tion.
Con - tend for me, my God and king. 24.O LORD my God, now vin - di - cate me.
26.Let those who gloat at my dis - tress be shamed and brought in - to con - fu - sion.
for he takes sat - is - fac - tion in the peace and wel - fare of his ser - vant."

I'll of - fer of - fer - ings of praise a - mong a mul - ti - tude of peo - ple.
21.They o - pen wide their mouth at me. They say, "A - ha, our eyes have seen it."
ac - cor - ding to your right - eous - ness, and let them not re - joice a - gainst me.
Let those ex - ul - ting o - ver me be clothed with shame and great dis - hon - or.
28.My tongue shall tell your right - eous - ness and your praise - wor - thi - ness all day long.
