

Psalm 49:1-11

To the chief musician, a psalm of the sons of Korah

1.Hear this, all peo-ples, and give ear, all dwel-ling in the world, 2.both sons of man and 4.To list - en to a par - a - ble I will in - cline my ear. Up - on the harp I 6.All those who put trust in their wealth and in their rich - es boast, 7.none can re-deem his 10.For he will see that wise men die. To-geth - er both the fool and bru-tish per - son sons of men, to-geth - er rich and poor. 3.My mouth I'll o - pen to de - clare the words of will dis-close my e - nig - mat - ic word. 5.Why should I be at all a - afraid in days when bro-ther or to God his ran - som give- 8.their soul's ran - som is of great cost, for - ev - er per-ish and to oth - ers leave their wealth. 11.Their in - ward thought is that their homes for - ev - er wis - ~ dom. The med - i - ta - tion of my heart shall un - der - stand - ing be.

e - vil comes, and when in - i - qui - ty that dogs my heels sur-rounds ~ me?
it shall cease- 9.that he should live per - pet - ual - ly and nev - er see the pit.
shall en - dure, their dwel-lings will not cease. They call their lands by their own names.