

Psalm 31:14-24

To the Chief Musician, A Psalm of David

14. But I, I trust in you, O LORD. I say, You are my God.
O save me for your mercies' sake. 17. Let me not be ashamed,
19. How great the goodness you've laid up for those who fear your name.
21. Blessed for ever be the LORD for he has shown to me
23. O love the LORD, his saints. The LORD preserves the faithful ones,

15. My times are in your hand. O save me from the hand of foes.
O LORD, for I have called on you. Let wicked men be shamed.
which you've wrought for those who trust you before the sons of man.
his wondrous loving-kindness in a city under siege.
and he abundantly repays the one who acts in pride.

De - liv - er me from all of those who per - se - cute my soul.
Let them be silent in She - ol. 18. Let lying lips be stopped
20. You'll hide them in your secret place from the intrigues of men.
22. For in my haste I even said, "I'm ban - ished from your eyes."
24. Be strong and of good courage and he will con - firm your heart,

16. O make your face on your ser - vant with lov - ing - kind - ness shine.
that speak hard things a - gainst the just with pride and with con - tempt.
You'll keep them from the strife of tongues hi - ding them in a tent.
but you gave heed un - to my plea when I cried out to you.
all you whose ex - pec - ta - tion is di - rec - ted to the LORD.
